FISCAL ANALYSIS

ASSUMPTION

Officials from the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education assume this proposed legislation would allow students who go to private school, home school, virtual school, or any other school that is not their public school of residence to participate in interscholastic athletics at their public school of residence. The proposal does give the school district the ability to limit their teams, so it is possible that a student could try out for a team and not make the cut for participation.

There is a small fee that school districts have to pay to Missouri State High School Activities Association (MSHSAA) on the number of participants they have in various interscholastic sports. The fee is small and the increased number of participants would not create a large amount of extra expense for districts. The fact that schools can limit the team participants should not create an extra expense.

Officials from the University of Central Missouri and Washington University (charter school sponsors) state there is no fiscal impact on either charter school sponsoring universities or on charter schools.

Officials from the Francis Howell School District state there is no fiscal impact to their district, since there is no requirement that public schools accept any non-public students as athletes.

Officials from the Blue Springs School District assume that adding additional student opportunities and student participation will cost their district $50,000 to $100,000 more each year.

Oversight assumes the language of the proposal is permissive and, for fiscal note purposes only, will assign no fiscal impact to school districts.

FISCAL IMPACT - State Government	FY 2011 (10 Mo.)	FY 2012	FY 2013

FISCAL IMPACT - Local Government	FY 2011 (10 Mo.)	FY 2012	FY 2013
	$0	$0	$0
FISCAL IMPACT - Small Business

No direct fiscal impact to small businesses would be expected as a result of this proposal.

FISCAL DESCRIPTION

The proposed legislation appears to have no fiscal impact.

This legislation is not federally mandated, would not duplicate any other program and would not require additional capital improvements or rental space.
